Dear Sir/Madam

You may be aware that Norfolk County Council's Environment, Development and Transport Committee approved four options for a potential Norwich Western Link last week and these are now our shortlist of options. You can read more about these options here.

A public consultation on these routes will run between Monday 26 November 2018 and Friday 18 January 2019. During the consultation, people will be asked for their views on the options and these responses will help the council identify a preferred option for a Norwich Western Link in spring 2019.

You can find out more about the options and respond to the consultation online via www.norfolk.gov.uk/nwl from Monday 26 November. You can also respond in person, and ask any questions you may have, at a series of staffed events taking place in local communities throughout the consultation period. You can find details of these events here and also on the attached poster, which you would be very welcome to share or print and display to help make others aware of the consultation

We would encourage everyone to look through all the information available as part of the consultation before making their response. If you have any questions that the published consultation information doesn't answer, please let us know – whether in person at one of our dedicated consultation events or by email.

Best wishes,

Chris Fernandez

Dear ~~Ms Vergette~~

I'm writing to let you know that our public consultation on our four shortlisted options for a Norwich Western Link is now open.

Norfolk County Council wants to create a Norwich Western Link to improve travel between the A47 and the western end of Broadland Northway (formerly the Northern Distributor Road) and to tackle transport problems in the area. We published four potential routes for a Norwich Western Link earlier this month and we've now made further information about them available to coincide with the consultation opening.

You can find out more about the options online via www.norfolk.gov.uk/nwl or by coming to one of our staff events taking place in local communities throughout the consultation period. A full list of these events is below.

Once you have looked through this information, there are a number of ways you can respond to the consultation. If you are responding on behalf of an organisation or in an official capacity, we would encourage you to your response in writing, as follows:

You can also respond online by completing our consultation questionnaire via www.norfolk.gov.uk/nwl or in person at one of our consultation events. A list of these events is below and all the events will run between 2pm and 8pm unless otherwise stated:

- Monday 3 December at Drayton Village Hall
- Tuesday 4 December at The Forum, Norwich (12-5pm)

- Monday 14 January at The Costessey Centre
- Tuesday 15 January at Dereham Memorial Hall

It's really important we receive your views on our four options for a Norwich Western Link - all the consultation responses will be used to help us identify a preferred route for the Norwich Western Link in Spring 2019. Please make sure your response reaches us before the consultation closes at midnight on Friday 18 January 2019.

If you have any questions that are not answered by the information we have made available, please let us know using the email and postal address provided above or in person at one of our consultation events.

Best wishes

 Norfolk County Council

In early November, Norfolk County Council published four potential route options for a Norwich Western Link, to connect the western end of Broadland Northway (formerly the Northern Distributor Road) to the A47. The council wants to improve travel between these two major roads and to tackle the transport problems that exist in the area to the west of Norwich, including slow journey times, rat running and roads not being suitable for the volume and type of traffic.

The four routes have been published following months of work to identify which options would be most effective as a Norwich Western Link. The shortlisted options were also informed by the results of an initial Norwich Western Link consultation which was held earlier this year. This consultation had more than 1,700 responses and showed there was very strong support for creating a new link between the A47 and Broadland Northway, with the majority of those responding suggesting a new road as their preferred solution.

The shortlist is made up of three new dual carriageway roads and a single carriageway upgrade to the B1535, and all of the options also include improvements to the A1067 Fakenham Road.

A public consultation on these routes will run between Monday 26 November 2018 and Friday 18 January 2019. During the consultation, people will be asked for their views on the options and these responses will help the council identify a preferred option for a Norwich Western Link in spring 2019. The consultation is also an opportunity to tell the council about any relevant information they should consider before deciding on a preferred route.

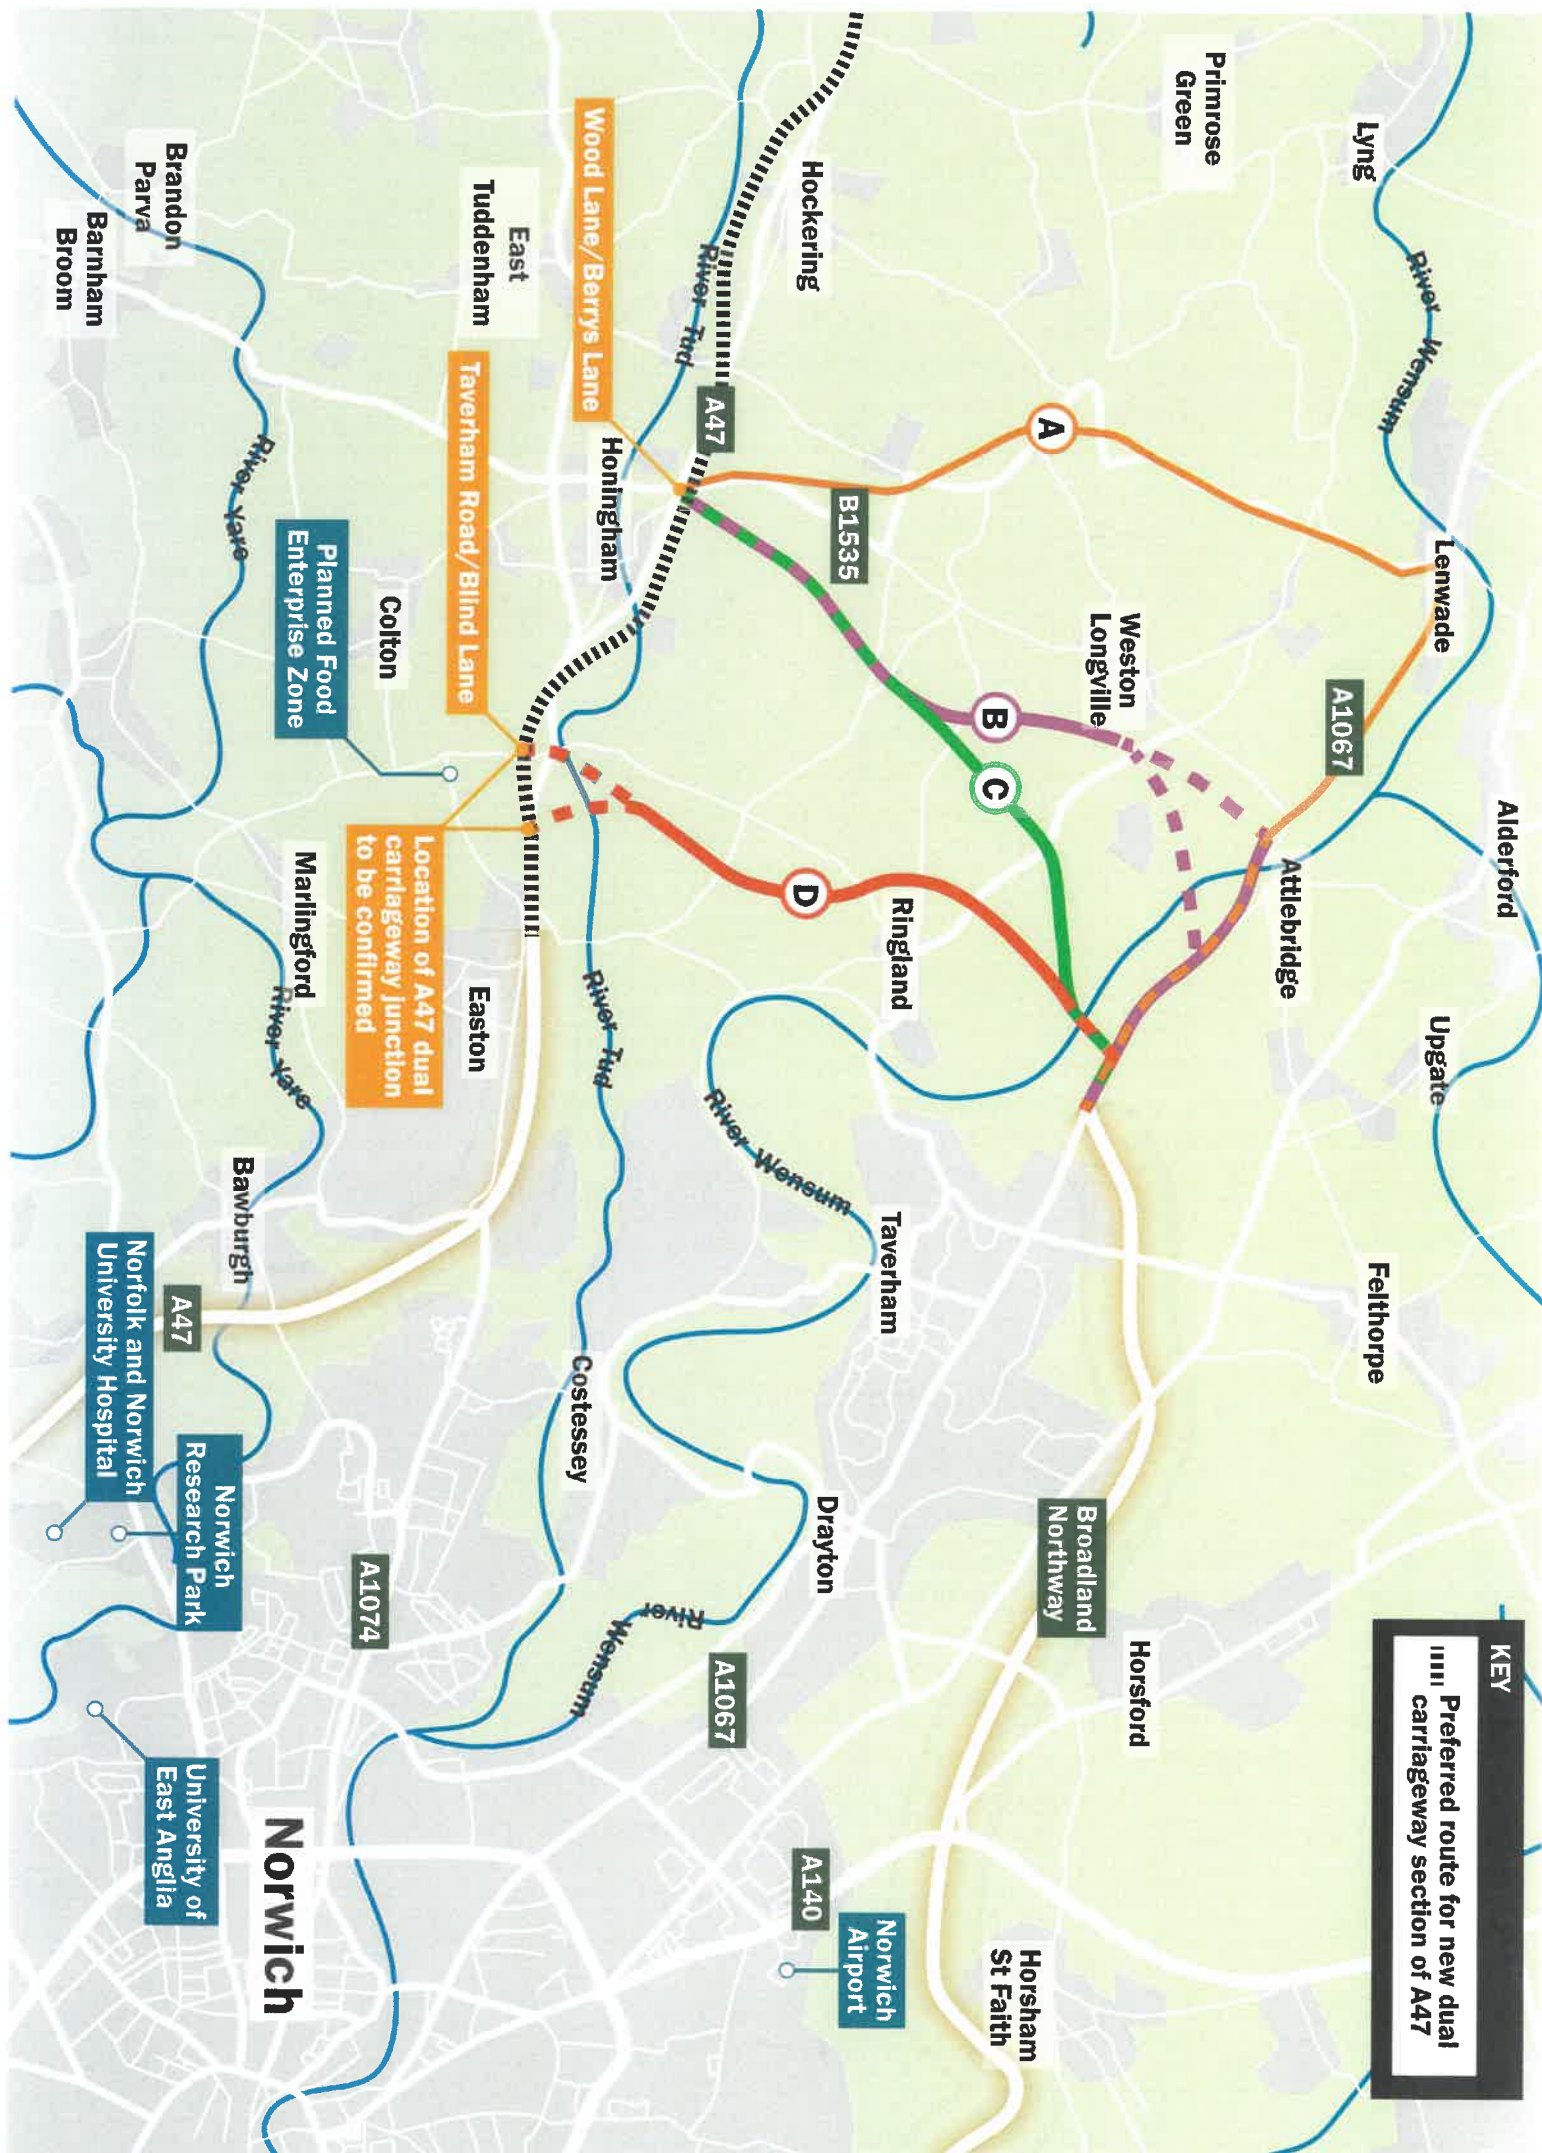

People can find out more about the options and respond to the consultation online via www.norfolk.gov.uk/nwl from Monday 26 November. People can also respond in person, and ask any questions they may have, at a series of staffed consultation events taking place throughout the consultation period. Information on these events is below, all the events will run between 2 and 8pm unless otherwise stated and people can drop in at any point between these opening times.
